Chaplain's Chronicles

Dear Serrans,

Praise be Jesus Christ!

I find the stories of missionary priests to be quite inspiring. One of my favorite saints is St. Damien of Molokai, whose feast day is May 10. A simple and even sickly young man from Belgium, he would come to be known for his sacrificial and tireless service to the lepers quarantined on the Hawaiian island of Moloka'i, eventually dying from the disease himself in 1889. We rightly draw inspiration from our namesake, the Franciscan missionary priest St. Junipero Serra. The story of Blessed Stanley Rother, a missionary priest from Oklahoma, is both contemporary and compelling. Fully aware of the danger he faced by returning to his flock in Guatemala, he stated that "the shepherd cannot run." He was martyred in 1981.

The tales of saintly missionary priests can help us envision more clearly what we are praying for when we ask the Lord in the Serran Prayer for Vocations for an increase of "fellow laborers with Christ to spend and consume themselves for souls." Especially when we consider our diocesan priests, their mission fields are not remote islands, outposts, and villages; rather they are our own households, parishes, and cities – immersed as they are in a culture increasingly forgetful of or even hostile to the Gospel. The current Program for Priestly Formation, the guiding document for seminaries in the United States, asserts, "The goal of priestly formation is to form missionary disciples so that they are ready for consecration as shepherds for God's People, sharing in the authority of Christ the Redeemer, who sent the Apostles to preach and heal. In this way, priestly formation clearly must have a missionary character" (n. 14).

When we pray for priestly vocations, let us be specific in praying for our current and future priests that they be men who do more than simply open the church doors and keep the lights on. Let us pray for men who can be true 21st century missionaries!

Thoughts and Prayers

I am pleased that so many of you have stepped up to join in our Vocation Ministry. Thank you for your commitment to our mission! We have 9 people signed up to support the Traveling Crucifix program with our Catholic grade schools in Spokane. There are 10 people that have signed up for the Seven Serrans program to pray for our Vocations Director, Father Kyle Ratuiste, on one day of each week. Eleven people have stepped forward to support our 9 Spokane seminarians through the Adopt-a-Seminarian program.

Your prayers and good works are so vital to promoting and supporting vocations for our church. The process of vocations starts with children and families learning and valuing and encouraging the priesthood and religious life. The majority of priests began to imagine a vocation at a young age, and we believe that the Traveling Crucifix program will plant vocational seeds that will produce an eventual fruitful harvest.

Supporting our vocations director is so vital in this process. Father Ratuiste works tirelessly to invite, recruit, teach, encourage, challenge, and model the priestly vocation. He needs our help to support his mission. That starts with prayer for him and his work. The Seven Serrans program is an effort to assure that every day he is supported in our prayers.

Encouraging and praying for our seminarians is also so important. Of course, we are focusing on Spokane seminarians, who we hope will one day be ordained to serve our diocese. Being a mentor, friend, and spiritual supporter for our seminarians will help them in their growth and discernment process.

Finally, all of these processes provide an opportunity for Spokane Serrans to grow in personal holiness.

If you are not yet involved in one of our ministries, I invite you to do so. Just give me a call or text (509) 981-0487 or email me at glacbud@comcast.net We would love your help in promoting and supporting the priesthood and religious life.

Blessings,

Greg Takisaki, President

March Serra Promotion

Thank you to Emily Klein, Frank Heinzen, Dave McGann, and Eva Dacanay who helped Jim Hose, the VP for membership with a recruitment effort held at the Cathedral of Our Lady of Lourdes the weekend of March 18 and 19. Msgr. Pearson and Fr. Connall provided brief presentations about Serra and the Help Promote Vocations brochures and Serra prayer cards were distributed. The picture at right is from a January vocations event at the Cathedral. From left to right: Jim Hose, Cindy Omlin, and Emily Klein.

CHAPLAIN Continued from 1

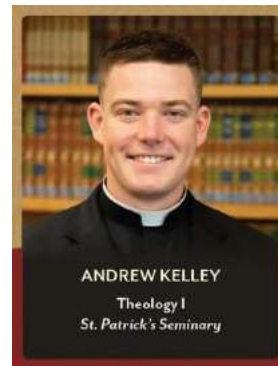

At the same time, we recognize what Pope Francis teaches in Evangelii Gaudium: "In virtue of their baptism, all the members of the People of God have become missionary disciples" (n. 120, emphasis added). We all have a part to play in proclaiming the Gospel, and this is part of the rich soil for a fruitful culture of vocations. As we pray for a missionary spirit among our priests, may we also ask for the grace to be witnesses to the faith in deed and word, true missionary disciples capable of inspiring our neighbors and the younger generation to a generous "yes" in trusting the Lord and following Him.

¡Siempre adelante!

In Christ,

Fr. Kyle Ratuiste, Chaplain

Seminarian Update

On April 19, during Mass at St. Patrick's Seminary, seminarian Andrew Kelley was accepted as a "Candidate for Holy Orders." This marks a key milestone in the mutual commitment between him and the diocese as he prepares to be a priest. It is similar to how a couple's engagement signals a new degree of commitment and preparation prior to marriage. May God bless Andrew!

Election Results for the Board of Directors/Trustees

Ballots were mailed with the Mar-Apr newsletter and the results are in. Write in candidates for the office of president, to begin June 1, 2024, will be contacted by the trustees and the result is not yet available.

Our current president, Greg Takisaki, was elected to a two-year term and did not need to be re-elected. He will continue as president through May 31, 2024.

Here are the duly elected officers to be installed at our Anniversary Dinner on June 10:

VP Membership	Jim Hose	Treasurer	Karen Domini
VP Programs	Emily Klein	Trustee	Sue Manfred
VP Vocations	Anna Stockdill	Trustee	Lori Neumann
VP Communications	Cindy Omlin	Trustee	Steve Domini
Secretary	Cathy Niblock	Trustee Emeritus	Martin Weber

Congratulations!

Thank you, Judy Luce and Al Hanson!

By Steve Domini

As we move toward the Anniversary Dinner and Installation of officers, the board would like to say thank you and goodbye on behalf of all Serrans to our secretary, Judy Luce, and our vice president for vocations, Al Hanson as they step down from the board in May. If you see Judy or Al at the next Serra program or event, please thank them for their service on the Serra board and for working hard for the Kingdom.

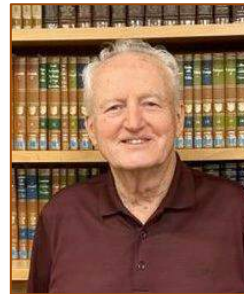

Judy Luce, pictured at left, has been a Serran since 2012, when she and her late father Harvey, joined the Serran family. Harvey passed away in 2014 and it was a privilege to have spent time with him.

Judy began serving as secretary on June 1, 2014. That is a lot of board meetings. She has been a dedicated volunteer done a wonderful job; her minutes are always complete and accurate. I don't know how she stays focused on taking the minutes but doesn't get lost in the side conversations that sometimes occur. I once served as board secretary, and it was not easy!

Judy has assisted in several other ways, too. Taking RSVPs for various events, helping with the set up and decorating, and with the check in and name tag distribution.

Sadly, Judy will be leaving the Serrans to pursue other interests. We will miss her very much and wish her the very best in the future. May God continue to bless Judy and her family.

Al Hanson, pictured at left, has been a Serran since 2013 and a member of the board for at least seven years, as vice president for membership, vice president for programs, and currently, vice president for vocations.

Al always approached his responsibilities with enthusiasm and dedication. As VP for programs, he often incorporated the Serran "A Call to Holiness" programs. He prepared handouts, introduced the topic – which followed the liturgical calendar of mission and ministry of the church – these were great fun and I always learned something new. He invited many interesting speakers, for example, Msgr. Brian Mee, Msgr. John Steiner, and Fr. William O'Brien, pastor of Sts. Cyril and Methodius Byzantine Catholic Church. He would then write the summaries for the newsletter.

As VP for vocations, Al has been working with our chaplain and diocesan director of vocations, Fr. Kyle Ratuiste, on two very important programs: Adopt-A-Seminarian and the Seven Serran Prayer Team, or the Prayer Initiative for Vocations.

Al is remaining a Serran and we will continue to see him at programs and events.

PRAYER INITIATIVE FOR VOCATIONS or SEVEN SERRAN PRAYER TEAM

Vocations directors are on the front line working for our church. They need our prayers. Serra is organizing an effort to ensure that every vocations director in the U.S. has at least one Serran praying for them for one hour each day of the week for one year.

Serra Club of Spokane is re-vitalizing it's seven-member team of prayer warriors. All it takes is a commitment to pray for one day of the week for one hour, for one year in support of Fr. Kyle Ratuiste, director of vocations.

If 14 Serrans join this effort, we can ask USAC to provide us with the name of a vocations director from a diocese without a Serra Club and have a seven-member team praying for them – this is the goal! Sign up today.

It is easier than you think. Team members/prayer warriors choose one day of the week to pray for one hour, for one year.

Here are some options for completing one hour of prayer:

- Attend daily Mass and communion (and if necessary to complete one hour, pray a rosary or other prayers);
- Attend a Holy Hour;
- Pray from home for an hour. An app such as Hallow or Amen may be of help.

If you are unable to complete your hour, for instance, you are traveling or ill, please ask another Serran to pray on your day.

Mark your day on your calendar for one year so as not to forget to pray. If it does happen, remember what Mother Teresa said, “we do not have to be successful, we just keep trying.”

ADOPT-A-SEMINARIAN

As part of our mission to foster and affirm vocations to the ministerial priesthood, you are invited to adopt a seminarian in formation for the Diocese of Spokane. While not a new concept, it has been some time since we last adopted seminarians. This is an excellent opportunity to provide spiritual and moral support to our Spokane seminarians as they strive to grow in relationship with God and follow His will; especially if you find it difficult to attend the monthly luncheons, Holy Hours for Holy Vocations, and other events.

Adopting a seminarian involves a one-year commitment that may be renewed annually. Please adopt one seminarian per person. A couple may each adopt a seminarian or adopt one seminarian together. However, a seminarian may be adopted by multiple Serrans.

You have the option of choosing a seminarian or having one assigned. Information on the activities and needs of the seminarians will be sent by the program coordinator, Frank Heinzen, throughout the year.

Serrans are expected to:

Pray for their seminarian daily by name!

Serrans are encouraged to:

Send occasional notes or letters, for instance:

- To introduce yourself and give updates about your experience of being Catholic in your parish and in the diocese.
- Send a greeting card for liturgical holidays, e.g., Christmas and Easter.
- To encourage him during notable times of challenge, e.g., finals week.

Attend the Holy Hour for Holy Vocations on Thursdays before First Friday at Bishop White Seminary.

Serrans are permitted to:

Give gifts for religious holidays or other special occasions. You may ask your adoptee for his birthdate or email address, but do not be disappointed if neither is given to you. For instance, men in the Cor Christi program do not have email.

- Invite seminarians to dinner if it does not conflict with seminary schedule. While living in a community setting, it is preferable that seminarians go in pairs.
- Gifts are not to be expensive, i.e., less than $50.
- Money or checks need to be reported to the program coordinator.

We currently have nine diocesan seminarians:

Two at Bishop White Seminary

Six at St. Patrick's Seminary

One at Mt. Angel Seminary

March Luncheon – Fr. Andrew O’Leary

From left: Fr. Andrew O’Leary, Gerry Manfred, and Emily Klein. Gerry, or Mr. Manfred, was Fr. O’Leary’s math teacher once upon a time.

Father Andrew O’Leary regaled 22 Serrans and two guests at our March luncheon meeting with several humorous and thoughtful stories. Guests included Tom Wade, a guest of Frank Heinzen, and Deacon Victor Lopez, who led us in adoration.

His stories were unique, but considering Fr. Andy’s path to the priesthood, not surprising. He was married and has two children, a son, and a daughter. Both are serving our country in the military. Fr. Andy himself spent many years as a nurse in the Navy.

He is a humble man who learned to trust God. He entered seminary at age 42. He told us how he had to change his identity from layman to deacon and then priest, since he had lived the lay life for so many years, and what that change would mean.

Once ordained, his friends would tell him many things they had never told him before. Shortly after ordination last year, he travelled to Lourdes with Bishop Daly, our chaplain, Father Ratuiste, and several seminarians. Many profound events transpired, and he began to experience the meaning of priesthood.

He is currently assigned as parochial vicar at Our Lady of Lourdes Cathedral. I recommend going to the Serra website (<https://serraclubofspokane.com/home/news/#media>) and listening to his presentation. You will then truly experience the depth and devotion of our newest diocesan priest.

April Luncheon – Fr. Miguel Mejia

We had 27 people attend the luncheon and program at IHRC. Deacon Richard Borda came for a second time. Our chaplain, Fr. Kyle Ratuiste led the blessing and Deacon Victor Lopez led the adoration liturgy.

Our speaker was Father Miguel Mejia, pictured at right with Greg Takisaki, who is the pastor of Our Lady of Fatima Parish. He was pinch hitting for Father Pat Hardin who was under the weather but is now feeling a little better.

Father Mejia talked about what has enabled him to persevere in his vocation as a priest for 23 years. He came to Bishop White and Gonzaga when he was 19 years old. He fondly remembered Serra Club gatherings where he discovered maple bars which are still his favorite. He thanked Serrans for our prayers and support during his formation. He was ordained in 2000 at Our Lady of Lourdes Cathedral and was part of a group of 6 ordinations. He started by serving in Pasco and Othello serving Spanish speaking parishioners. In 2008 he came to Spokane to help Fr. Dublinski who was at the time the Vicar General. He was then in Cheney for 2 years and has been at Fatima for the last 9 years.

See MEJIA, 7

The first thing that has helped him to persevere is prayer, both personal and community. He really likes spending time in the Blessed Sacrament Chapel at Fatima which is small and personal. He sees that chapel as a true blessing for him.

The second thing that encouraged him is having contact with people. In 2008 Bishop Skylstad asked him to be the chaplain for the House of Charity. Initially he was revolted by the homeless people and their conditions. He couldn't handle it and left. He however did return, and he said, "That experience changed my life." It helped him to see the presence of God in people. He also has lots of assignments that forced him to venture into areas where he had no experience but working with laity encourages him to see people doing things for the love of God, family, and the Church. He is strengthened and inspired by peoples' faith.

He finished by reminding us of the power of our prayer.

Fun Facts

Select findings from a NRVC/CARA study on vocations to religious life

As we continue to pray for and promote vocations to the priesthood and consecrated religious life, feel free to share these fun facts with others to increase awareness of vocations to religious life.

- 1 Ethnic diversity among perpetually professed sisters, brothers, and priests continues to increase. Current percentages: Mixed Races/Ethnicities 1%, African American/Black/African 6%, Hispanic/Latino(a) 10%, Asian/Pacific Islander 13%, Caucasian/white/Anglo 70%.
- 2 Thirty percent of newer entrants in religious life are African American/Black/African, Asian/Pacific Islander, Hispanic/Latino(a), and Mixed Races/Ethnicities.
- 3 Nearly all (95%) of perpetually professed sisters, brothers, and priests earned at least college degree, and 70% have a master's degree or more.
- 4 The majority (67%) of perpetually professed sisters, brothers, and priests in the U.S. live in the Northeast and Midwest.
- 5 Seventy-seven percent of religious institutes have a vocation director or vocation team.
- 6 Men's religious institutes (45%) are more likely to have a full-time vocation director than women's religious institutes (28%).
- 7 Ninety-seven percent of religious institutes have a vocation director who is a perpetually professed sister, brother, or priest.
- 8 On average, a vocation director has served in vocation ministry for seven years.
- 9 Vocation teams are made up of perpetually professed, leadership, temporary professed, associates, and other laypeople, such as young adults or parents.
- 10 Men's religious institutes more than women's include a layperson on a vocation team.

Ordination Anniversaries

Ordination anniversary cards are sent to priests on behalf of the Serra Club. Celebrate those priests that have special meaning in your life by attending Mass, saying a prayer, or sending your own card.
